[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

EASTERN DATES TO APRIL 19.

EASTERN STATES

New York News

NEW YORK, April 18 —On the trial of Fannie Hyde to day for shooting her employer George Watson, two physicians testified to the belief that the prisoner was laboring under incipient homicidal mania at the time of killing

Virginia Republican Convention

RICHMOND, April 18 —The State Republican Convention to day adopted the resolutions re affirming the great principles of the Republican party, commending the patriotism of Grant, urging his re-election, and proposing Senator Lewis as a candidate for Vice President. A full delegation to the Philadelphia Convention was selected and instructed to vote for the renomination of Grant

Trial of Mrs. Sherman.

NEW HAVEN (Conn) April 18 —At the trial of Mrs Sherman, to day for poisoning her husband, the mother of the deceased testified that he was seized with symptoms of poisoning after drinking a cup of tea prepared and given him by the prisoner. G H Peck of Birmingham testified that the accused bought arsenic at his store two or three weeks previous to the death of her husband. She said that she wanted it to kill rats. Professor Barker testified to finding arsenic in a portion of the liver of Sherman, in the proportion of five grains to the entire liver

An Ex-Minister Come to Grief

WASHINGTON, April 18 —Authentic information received here from St Petersburg states that Catacazy has been disgraced on account of his conduct here, that he has gone to Paris on an annual pension of 3 000 roubles and that the condition of his going off there is no new cause of offence

WASHINGTON CITY

Miscellaneous and Congressional News

WASHINGTON, April 18 —In the Senate a number of District of Columbia bills were reported and passed

Sumner's bill for abolishing the Board of Trustees of colored schools in Washington and Georgetown and for prohibiting all distinctions among teachers or pupils on account of race or color, in the District was reported. Stockton wanted Sumner to explain the bill. Sumner declined and urged the Senate to vote. Bayard wanted an opportunity for the minority to discuss the bill. Anthony proposed an arrangement to that effect, but Sumner refused, persisting in urging a vote, when the Senate, on motion of Cameron, adjourned

In the House the Salt Lake and Colorado railroad passed

A modified Goat Island bill, to which the Pacific Railroad Committee agree, was reported back to the House after a conference between Huntington and his lobby manager Franchot, with the Chairman. It allows the use of half the island, to be connected with the Oakland shore by a bridge of 400 feet span, and subjects the property to State taxation, provides that the roads shall receive and deliver in the city all passengers and freight required without charge, reserves the Congressional right to take any portion of the present grant away from the Central Pacific Railroad Company, if not actually occupied for legitimate railroad purposes and give the use of the same to any other railroad. There is a conspicuous absence of any prohibition of any warehouse charges. All the California members of the House will support this bill

The House Committee on Appropriations recommended $726 000 for the coast survey, being the full amount asked for

In the Senate, the Appropriation Committee adopted the amendment to the naval appropriation bill, repealing the eight hour law as far as it applies to the workshops and navy yards of the country

CANADA.

OTTAWA (Ontario), April 18 —The correspondence in regard to the fishery question, laid before the Parliament to day, discloses the fact that the Canadian Government strenuously objected to the fishery clauses in the Treaty of Washington, and eventually agreed to waive their objections on consideration of the British Government guaranteeing the Canadian loan of £2 500,000 sterling to be applied to the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway and the extension of the canal system

BY ATLANTIC CABLE

From London.

LONDON, April 18,—In the House of Commons to night there was a full attendance of members and the galleries were crowded. Both members and spectators expected an exciting debate on the course of the Government at Geneva and on the Ballot bill. They were disappointed, however ... an attempt to draw Gladstone out on the Alabama claims failed. He declined to answer questions

It is supposed that Bismarck's ultimatum presented to Thiers demands the immediate reduction of the French army to 225 000 men, and hints that in case of a refusal it would be necessary for Germany to establish a government for France

The report of complications between France and Germany is utterly discredited both at Berlin and Versailles

From Paris.

PARIS, April 18 —The Constitutionnel contradicts positively the report of any unfriendly differences between France and Germany

From Constantinople

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 18 —General Sherman, Lieutenant Grant and party leave soon for a tour in Russia

CALIFORNIA

From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19 —Two million dollars worth of old Japanese gold coin arrived here by the America to be refined to the new standard and sent back for coinage

A Republican committee under the auspices of the Committee of 100 has nominated a full Grant ticket for every ward in the city pledged against the Goat Island scheme, to be supported at the primaries this afternoon

A private dispatch received last evening says the President, Managing Director and Consulting Engineer of the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad Co (35th parallel) accompanied by the Mayor of St Louis together with a committee of the City Council and also committees of the Board of Trade and Chamber of Commerce of that city, with several reporters, left St Louis last evening for our city and are expected to arrive on Thursday next

Delano, Secretary of the Interior, leaves St Louis with them, but whether he comes through to San Francisco or not is uncertain

No steamer from Panama yet

Weather warm and clear, with light wind from the southwest

To arrive overland this evening A Schlussel and wife, Portland

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19 —The stock excitement this morning was greater than ever. And while both the regular and open boards were in session a crowd of as many as three hundred people congregated on the sidewalk on California street east of Mozart and a regular auction of stock took place

The Republican primary to day is going to be a spirited one. The railroad company does not appear to be interfering in the matter directly at all, the fight being between the old gang of professional politicians who are distrusted by most of our citizens and the tax payers and others who don't usually take any part in a primary but are brought out to day by the railroad excitement. In the first precinct of the eleventh ward a bitter personal feeling has manifested itself among the candidates and unusual efforts are being made by both parties to bring out voters. The whole force has been detailed to attend the polls and preserve order

Announcement of the declaration of a three dollar dividend yesterday was premature though generally believed on the streets. The stock holds its own to day

Union Consolidated Silver Mining Company, capital $2,090 000, Storey county, Nevada, was incorporated to-day

Mrs Keeler, a widow residing on the corner of Grant and Filmore streets, fell dead of heart disease last evening

OREGON

Oregon City is to have a calico party at an early day

Salem base ballists are to contend for the championship bat

The Linn county Republican Convention will meet at Albany to day,

Father Harmon, temperance lecturer, is the oldest Mason in Oregon

Two farmers in Marion county have 60 acres of fall wheat which is looking finely

Two young chaps at Oregon City came near being drowned by the upsetting of a skiff a few days ago

The Good Templars of Albany propose to have a big time on the evening of the 6th of May at their hall

The Salem Statesman thinks William Alexander, the "missing man," is on his way overland to California

The election of officers of the Washington County Agricultural Society will take place on the 4th of May

It is the intention of the Odd Fellows of Oregon City to "celebrate" next Friday. The programme is not yet agreed on Several of the valley towns will celebrate the Fourth of July in an appropriate manner. Some of them are already preparing

A little son of Rollen Fleurnoy, Roseburg, says the Ensign, fell from a stack of straw and broke his leg, Sunday before last

A correspondent at Hillsboro informs us that an immense amount of spring grain is being sown by the farmers of Washington county

Albany Lodge I O O F, has elected the following delegates to the Grand Lodge: J F, Backenstos, W S Newbery, L Cheadle.

Russell Post, G. A R, at Salem, will unite with their comrades of Baker Post of Portland in the appropriate observance of decoration day,

Mr J W George, of Lebanon, last week sold his farm, lying about one mile from that village, for $12,000 in coin. The farm was well improved and contained some four hundred acres.

It is said that if as much energy be shown at the California end of the O & C railroad as at this, next summer will witness a continuous line of railway between Portland and Sacramento.

The members of the I O O F in Yamhill county have combined and propose to have a procession, music oration, etc. Mr Charles E Warren of Oregon City has been invited to deliver the address

A fine M E Church is to built at Cornelius this summer. The building is to be 34 feet wide and 54 feet long, and to be finished in good style. About $350 has already been subscribed, though the subscription paper has only just begun to be circulated

The county Central Republican Committee of Marion county met on last Wednesday, and after hearing the complaints of those who felt aggrieved in the matter of the nominations made by the County Convention, endorsed the nominees of the Convention.

Judge Wilson visited the University at Salem on Thursday and addressed the students on the subject of Education. He takes considerable pride in the University, as he was the first student of the school who received from it the degree of Master of Arts

A resident near Silverton, Marion county, says that while rain has fallen lately in the valley, the fall in the mountains has been altogether snow, and that the snow line is now lower down the mountain slopes than it has been known for many years in the middle of April.

The following are the cases to be tried at the special term of the Circuit Court for Clackamas county to begin on the 29th of April: State of Oregon vs M McCormick, State of Oregon vs Jacob Engle, State of Oregon vs Jim, an Indian, and the two civil cases of Moore vs Graape, and Gans vs Gans

James C Waite, of Wheatland, has found himself or rather found out who he is after remaining in ignorance of that fact for twenty two years. He was taken from New Albany, Indiana in 1850 and brought to Oregon, being too young to remember his genealogy, which he has just succeeded in tracing out

The Statesman informs us that Rev A Myers, of the Salem Agricultural Works, has completed all his arrangements with Eastern parties, and has returned with full equipments for rushing it through with great energy. He has secured the right to manufacture and sell the Hubbard reaping and mowing machine for this entire coast and will devote much attention to this branch of the business

It is said that while Jo Teal was making that speech at Albany the other night, the meeting was disturbed by two bad boys, one of whom touched off a firecracker in the rear of his comrade, who immediately screamed out "Oh I'm shot, I'm shot. I feel the blood in my boots." It is thought that the boys were put up to this mischief by some one acquainted with the speaker's war experience

On Gail's Creek, in Washington county, is a fine sand stone quarry which will some day become very valuable. The stone when first taken from the quarry is soft and easily cut into any required shape, but after being exposed to the atmosphere for a length of time, becomes quite hard. The O C R R Co contemplate laying a side track to the vicinity of this quarry in order to procure gravel to ballast their road bed

The Oregon City Enterprise contains the following account of the results of a heavy blast let off at the Locks on Thursday afternoon, which threw pieces of rock across the river. One stone struck a half breed named Dick Howe on the head inflicting a severe wound on his forehead. Another rock struck the roof of Mr Logus' butcher shop, passing through the roof and smashing in the ceiling. This rock weighed 90 pounds and another passed through the window of Mr Fraser's residence striking Mrs F on the shoulder, but doing no serious damage

Another murder occurred in Clackamas county yesterday morning, the following particulars of which we gather from the Enterprise of yesterday: Henry C Berringer, better known in Oregon City as Clay Boles, was shot this morning about 4½ o'clock by James Gordon, at Linn City, and died about 7 o'clock. The shot took effect in the thigh, shattering the leg bone into pieces. Both parties have been engaged in fishing, and it appears that Gordon had destroyed the boat belonging to Berringer, who went to the house to ascertain whether Gordon did it or not, when he immediately shot him. We learn that he had drawn the gun on Boles before, and the parties have not been on good terms for some time."

Mr. Warriner of Payette was at Boise City a few days ago with eighty seven and a half ounces of gold dust, which he had assayed at the U S Assay office at that place. The bar was 937 fine and brought, when sold at the bank, $1 596 76 coin. Mr W thinks that this bar netted him a profit of $235 41, by the government assay over what he would have realized for his dust had he been compelled to have sold at the old rates—fifteen dollars and a half per ounce

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

EASTERN STATES

NEW YORK, April 19 —The New York city charter which passed the Legislature yesterday provides for the election of a Mayor on the 21st of May. The voting for Aldermen will be on the cumulative plan. Doubts are expressed at Albany whether the Governor will approve the bill. The Times and Tribune approve the charter. The World calls it absurd. The Herald says it is complicated and cumbrous, and lacking the directness and simplicity necessary to secure good government

North Carolina Convention

RALEIGH, April 19 —The Republican State Convention assembled yesterday and completed a State ticket, headed by Governor Caldwell for re-election, C H Brayjen for Lt. Governor, H. W Howerton for Secretary of State, D A Jenkins for Treasurer, and John Reilly for Assessor. Resolutions were adopted endorsing the administration of Grant. After a bitter debate a resolution was adopted asking the U S. Senate to give a seat to Abbot

WASHINGTON, April 19 —The deficiency appropriation bill was taken up in the Senate.

The House discussed the civil service reform bill. Bingham and Butler of Massachusetts opposed it. Bingham declared that nothing could save it from utter contempt. After an exciting discussion between Butler and Garfield, the former's motion to recommit it, the bill was agreed to, 97 to 79

English News.

LONDON, April 19 —The Times describes the British counter case as conceived in a grave, statesmanlike spirit, while the American case reads like an advocate's speech to a jury in a trial for assault and battery. England's reply reads like the utterance of a judge.

The Telegraph says that Americans, on studying with impartiality the counter case, find reason to fear not only for their claims, but for something worse. Instance on instance of over statement and inconsistency is brought against them, until the great fabric of laborious ingenuity trembles to its foundation

Other city journals have articles on the subject. Journalistic discussion of the British and American cases presented at the Geneva Conference continues, and, in drawing a contrast between them, is very unfavorable to the American case

The intimation received here of the probability of a withdrawal of the indirect claims is favorably commented on by the press, which praises the Government and people of the United States for an apparent disposition to render possible a fulfillment of the terms of the Treaty of Washington.

LIVERPOOL, April 19 —A fire has been raging among the timbers at Laird's ship-yard, Birkenhead, since morning. The loss is great. Two persons were killed by the falling of burning wood.

French Affairs.

LONDON, April 19 —Other countries are now demanding of France the abolition of the passport system, which now applies only to England.

The Augsburg Gazette affirms the correctness of the statement of the Telegraph that the invasion of France is imminent unless the military operations there are discontinued, and adds that this is the purpose of the policy of Bismarck. The Gazette says that all the German soldiers with unexpired terms, who were sent home at the end of the war, have been called to their corps. There is no doubt that the Telegraph's article yesterday was inspired at Berlin.

A Vienna Berlin special denies the story of Bismarck sending an ultimatum to the French Government. Von Arnim did convey a dispatch from Bismarck, but its tone was very pacific and flattering to Thiers—the German Premier stating it as his conviction that peace would endure between the two nations as long as Thiers remains in power. He complains, however, of the distrust of the good intentions of Germany manifested by the people of France

A WEBFOOT ON THE ORIGIN OF THE SPECIES —A correspondent in Oregon writes us, says the Sonoma Democrat, a private letter from which we make the annexed extract: "A Mormon family who emigrated here with twenty head of stock and four wagon loads of children, who are supposed to be running wild in the woods. The father is confident that some of them are missing, but as their mothers are dead, he can't exactly say how many. They will live well enough on berries but will miss the advantages of a public school education, there being no law in this benighted State to make education compulsory. A celebrated naturalist now visiting Oregon encountered one of them trailing a stick behind, which he used to propel him over logs, which are sometimes ten feet thick. On this he has laid the theory that monkeys are descended from man, who ran wild and trailed sticks behind them, which gradually grew into tails, before they could climb they were used for jumpers like kangaroos, but subsequently, when they had developed claws, by having to climb trees, berries being scarce, became flexible and dropped off in some of the species, the Chinook Indians being a case in point. From the young Chinook Indians who are fond of playing along the tide flats, he thinks the Chinook salmon, which jumps up falls, descended, still retaining the salmon color and jumping instincts of its progenitors. The naturalist and Darwin differ only as to whether man is monkey with his tail dropped off, or a monkey is a man with his tail grown on.

SPEEDY AND REMARKABLE CURES.

Still Another Testimonial from a Prominent Citizen of Greenville, Washington County.

TO THE AFFLICTED —I WISH TO STATE THAT for nine years I was a great sufferer with Nasal Catarrh, Throat and Lung Disease, bad discharges from my head, Cough, great difficulty of breathing, pains through my chest and Dyspepsia, was constantly getting weaker and losing flesh. No treatment ... to relieve me. Hearing of Doctor Aborn's great success, I decided to try his skill in my case. On the 23d of January last I visited Portland and placed myself under his treatment, and found immediate relief of my pain in the breast and the difficulty of breathing was also relieved at once and I have continued to improve from day to day until now I feel quite well. I can breathe freely through my nostrils, which were almost entirely closed. My lungs are healing rapidly. I can now breathe quite clear and easy. I have gained about eleven pounds. My general health has been so much improved that I look and feel like a different man. I have been able to plough and do other work on my farm during the last three or four weeks without experiencing any difficulty. I am satisfied that the doctor's mode of treatment is based upon scientific principles, and calculated to cure these diseases after the ordinary plans of treatment have failed.

GENERAL PROSTRATION OF THE WHOLE SYSTEM

JACKSON POWELL, of Powell Valley Oregon.

To the Afflicted —To those who are afflicted that they may know where to find that great prize—Health, I make the following statement of facts concerning my case

For fifteen years I have been afflicted with Nasal Catarrh, at times so that I could not breathe through the nostrils, accompanied with disagreeable discharges. The disease worked down into my Throat and Lungs so that of late I have suffered with Asthma, so bad at times that I thought I could not live. I had almost a constant cough with copious expectorations, and my whole system was prostrated. When I applied to DR ABORN last November I did not expect to live through the winter. But thanks to DR ABORN'S Skillful and Successful mode of treatment I to-day look and feel like a new man. I am entirely cured of the Asthma and Bronchial Disease. My nostrils are free, appetite good, flesh solid and healthy, and I have gained fifteen pounds and have been able to work on my farm for several weeks past. I have had the pleasure of witnessing several remarkable cures performed by DR ABORN and am fully convinced that he possesses rare ability and skill in the treatment of Chronic Diseases. I heartily recommend him to the afflicted

Exploded "Issues"

Again and again we have exploded into fragments the great "issues" which the Herald has been attempting to create for this political campaign. We have scattered repeatedly the [illegible] of impudent assertion concerning what it is pleased to call a "league between the Republican party and one man to [illegible] oppress the State." But every day it works as industriously as before to get together some part of the exploded fragments and to exhibit them anew. It alleges day by day that the railroad wants rights and powers which do not now belong to it, and asserts that the Republican party is pledged to secure to it those rights and powers. But it happens that the very rights which it declares that the Republican party has agreed to give the railroad, and which are pronounced to be so dangerous to the State, are already possessed by the railroad, being secured to it by the laws and by a Constitution that guarantees "vested corporate rights." No rights are asked for the railroad which it has not alwas had since it was first incorporated. There is no more need for legislation to curb railroad monopoly now than there was two years ago, when a Democratic Legislature sat through a whole session and never thought of the subject. The conditions now are exactly the same as they were then. The present outcry on the subject is a desperate expedient. It is raised to meet an urgent want for campaign matter. We have exploded and scattered this fabric of folly often enough. The Herald, however, for want of other material, continues to gather up the pieces and parade them before the public. If it finds amusement in this employment it is not for us to complain.

Republican Ascendancy Vital to the Country.

Few men of any sort are more trusted for honorable character and excellent qualities than the present Vice President of the United States. He has always been near the people, and his public utterances are recognized as a close reflection of the deliberate judgment of the country. In a recent contribution to an Eastern publication he gave with great clearness and force a series of reasons showing why Republican ascendency is vital to the nation. The article opened with this paragraph:

> When, in 1866, a President of the United States, aided by his entire Cabinet, by able Senators and Representatives, and by many other distinguished men, turned the whole power of his Administration against the party whose misplaced confidence had trusted it in his hands, it was fashionable for those who supported him to exclaim: "The Republican party having fulfilled its mission of destroying slavery and vanquishing the rebellion, it is time now for new organizations and associations." But it proved to be a party with a stronger hold on the popular heart than any of the political parties of the country; and, instead of being overthrown by this threatening secession, it came out of the contest stronger and more powerful than before.

Proceeding to speak of the attempt now being made to impair the power of the Republican party by dissensions and divisions, of which the so-called "independent movement" is a sign, Mr. Colfax showed that the only result of the success of such an effort would be to bring the Democratic party into power. We quote at this point the following:

> If a quarter of a million, or even as many as half a million Republicans could be induced to join three millions of Democrats in defeating the regular Republican organization, six-sevenths of the new Cabinet would belong proportionately to the dominating wing of the coalition. The supporters of the new Administration in Congress would be of the same political faith. And it does not need to recall the history of Andrew Johnson nor John Tyler to prove that, whatever might have been their political principles when elected, Administrations rapidly assimilate in political policy with their political supporters in Congress. If they must rely for defense on political opponents, that very necessity, by a force more potential than magnetism or gravitation, draws them together.

This is wisely and truly said. The closing paragraph is well worth special attention. The spirit of it is admirable. We quote it here:

> The Republican party is greater than its greatest men. Differences among its millions there must be; but at that ballot box, where American voters exercise their national sovereignty, they [illegible] their devotion to principles not by writing "Republican" or "Democrat" on their tickets, but by voting for those who stand before the nation and the world as the fairly chosen representatives of the principles they profess. Without stopping, however, to challenge the conscientiousness of any who may dissent from this, there are some persons who cannot afford to allow Republican ascendency to be overthrown. The men of business and of property, who desire stability and consequent prosperity, and do not desire the chaos of reaction, cannot afford it. The laboring men, whose interests Republicanism has always protected, and whose wages it has sought to maintain and advance, cannot afford it. But more than all, the humble and [illegible] millions of the South, who owe their emancipation and enfranchisement to the fact of Republican ascendency over the bitterest opposition, cannot afford it. On its banner they see that trinity of principles so priceless to them—"Liberty for all, Justice for all, Protection for all;" and, till they are assured of that protection against all, neither they nor those who care for them can afford to see its banner furled in defeat.

Soldiers' Homesteads.

A short time ago the telegraph gave information that Congress had passed a bill to enable discharged soldiers and sailors, or the widows of discharged soldiers and sailors, to acquire homesteads on the public lands. The San Francisco Call furnishes further particulars about its provisions. From that paper we learn that the bill provides that the time of service of any soldier or sailor in the army or navy shall be deducted from the time now required by law to acquire a homestead. Under the present laws, any citizen of twenty-one years of age, or upward, can locate 160 acres of surveyed Government land at $1 25 per acre, or 80 acres of double-priced land, at $2 50 per acre, after five years of continuous residence thereon, and cultivation, can obtain a patent from the general Government without payment of any money. The bill lately passed allows the time served in the army or navy to be deducted from this five years, so that a discharged three years' soldier, or his widow, can acquire a homestead by making proof of only two years' residence. The bill goes no further than this—does not provide for any gratuity of land to the soldier or sailor further than is now allowed under the homestead law, but reduces the time in which he acquired title. Those soldiers who served throughout the war need only reside on their land about one year before they are entitled to a patent from the Government, free of all expense, except a small fee to the Recorder or Register.

According to Mr. Burnett, Democratic candidate for Congress, the masses of the people of this country are groaning under the burden of a protective tariff. And in the opinion of Mr. Burnett, if something is not done soon to afford relief to the oppressed laboring classes and to check the growth of the money power, the mass of our people will soon be in the same pitiable condition as those of England, where one-sixth of the whole population are paupers. Mr. Burnett was descanting on the blessings of free trade. They have it in England. He should be harmed with its results, as depicted by himself.

Col. M'Clure, a Pennsylvania politician, who wanted a seat in Grant's Cabinet but wasn't appreciated, and John Hickman, of the same State, who followed the fortunes of Andy Johnson, have joined the "bolting" movement in that State.

Col. Joseph Teal of Grover's staff, made a speech at Albany a few days ago in which he said that the Locks at Willamet Falls would be completed by the 1st of January next. The Col. is over sanguine. The Locks will probably be completed sometime, but not by January next.

It is to be supposed that Mr. Slater will now discontinue his efforts in behalf of a railroad for Eastern Oregon, since Mr. Burnett, who wants to be his successor, says the enterprise is "robbery."

Prosperity of the Laboring Classes

PORTLAND, April 19, 1872.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

SIR: Inasmuch as the political canvass has fairly opened and the opposing standard-bearers have given public expression to their views on the vital issues of the hour, perhaps it will not be deemed presumptuous or inappropriate for one of the people to make a few observations on the political situation as viewed from the laboring man's standpoint. On the eve of elections it is the practice, sanctioned by established usage, for the representatives of the great Democratic party to constitute themselves the especial champions of the laboring man, (and so far as wordy declamation is concerned, they fill the bill); and I observe no perceptible departure from this time-honored principle in the present canvass. Judge Burnett in his recent address bitterly denounced the policy of the present Administration as affecting the interests of labor; that it was calculated to make the rich richer and the poor poorer, and then drawing upon his imagination painted a picture of the future of the laboring man not pleasant to contemplate or flattering to his intelligence. It is perhaps unfortunate that laboring men do not view the subject from the same stand-point. Buncombe statements, when arrayed against the stern logic of facts, are dissipated like mist before the morning sun. It is a fact that never before in the history of the Governmen has there been a period of such prosperity as during the last decade, and this under "radical rule." Of the truth of this assertion, no stronger evidence need be adduced than the statements of the savings institutions throughout the land.

In 1860, about the close of the Democratic administration, the total amount of deposits in the Savings Banks of the United States was slightly in excess of $60,000,000, while in 1870, as per sworn statements, it had increased to upwards of $700,000,000. Here is a substantial evidence of prosperity that cannot be gainsaid, and laboring men, when they reflect that while "groaning under the burdens imposed by a corrupt and tyrannical government," these results have been attained, feel that they can survive the terrible infliction for another Presidential term. Again they do not forget that when General Grant was elected, a greenback dollar was worth just 62 cents in gold. Its present value is 91 cents, an increase in value of 50 per cent in three years. During this period there has been no corresponding reduction in the wages of labor, while the cost of many of the necessaries of life have been materially reduced.

This increase in the valuation of the national currency, increased to a corresponding extent the wages of every working man in the land, and accounts in a measure, for their healthy little bank accounts. Laboring men realize that there is something tangible in these results, and they very properly attribute it to the confidence inspired by a Republican administration. No amount of denunciatory howling on the part of famishing office seekers will shake the confidence of the people in the present administration. It has a hold upon their affections that will enable it to tide over all opposition and successfully inaugurate another era of prosperity for the laboring man.

UNION.

St. Helens Correspondence.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

SIR: Circuit Court of Columbia county is now in session. The legal fraternity of Portland is well represented. On yesterday evening Gov. Gibbs addressed a large and attentive audience on the politicals questions of the day. He recounted the vacillations of Democracy, showing that in the name of Democracy the fund provided for the education of the thousands of Oregon's future citizens, had been basely plundered by the present administration to enrich a few political demagogues—and at best, but few of the people. He gave a synopsis of the history of the Republican party and of Grant's administration, showing the progress of the United States in the hands of the former, and the fidelity of the latter. He closed with an earnest appeal to those Democrats who have so long been on the "anxious seat" to come forward in support of the right before the tribulation and anguish of June and November overtake them.

This evening the Possum Council deliberately outraged its real supporters in the matter of nominations for county officers. The nominations are as follows: Mr. Hodgkins, to us a stranger, initials and residence unknown, is the nominee for Representative. Mr. James Dart is nominated for Sheriff. Two weeks ago he could not say enough to express his abhorrence of American citizenship, nor prove his love for another Government except by declaring his intention to leave our shores; but the Grand Sachem held out the sheriffalty to him and he was forthwith naturalized and the next day nominated. Of course the bedrockers were mad about it. Mr. Merrill is nominated for Clerk and Mr. Copeland for Treasurer. Esquire Bennett, an old Democratic wheel-horse, is nominated for Assessor. Bennett was entitled to the nomination for Representative, but he does not suit the Grand Sachem. Mr. Montgomery was re-nominated School Supt. The caudal appendage of the ticket is the nomination for Surveyor, Mr. Candle, whose moral character is vouched for by Mr. Hamilton.

Their Grand Sachem manipulated the convention to his own satisfaction and to the disgust of the honest delegates. Only fourteen delegates were in convention. The Grand Sachem wrote their ballots; the chairman would announce the informal ballot and then declare a nomination made thereon. No wonder that good men declare they won't vote the ticket.

The Republicans of Columbia county are jubilant and are determined to win the day.

The Railroad bridge on the Cowlitz, at Pumphrey's, is to be a Howe truss, two (connected) spans 100 feet each—total length of bridge 320 feet, requiring about 93,000 feet of lumber 124 iron "angle blocks," each weighing 150 pounds, also iron suspension rods, each from 1½ to 2½ inches in diameter and 24 feet long. The bridge will rest on three solid wooden piers, the center and largest one to be, at base 23x63 feet—58 feet high, about 48 feet above low water mark; this pier alone will have 230,000 feet of the best fir lumber, firmly dovetailed together. The size of the other piers of course, will not be as large as the center one. Total cost of bridge and piers, about $40,000

The barkentine Harrison, Capt. Trask, left Seattle for San Francisco last week, loaded with 400 tons of coal.

The Idaho Statesman is most decidedly uncomplimentary in its notice of the newly appointed Judge Lewis of Washington Territory.

Three vessels, the Chronicle, [illegible] and Clara Light, are now due at Olympia, with large invoices of goods for the merchants of that place.

Efforts are being made by subscription to raise the necessary funds to build a good road along the beach from Seattle towards the Duamish river.

The Intelligencer says that the Port Madison mills are again in full blast, having completed all their repairs, and commencing work anew on last Friday.

Rev. Thomas E. Dickey has received an unanimous call from the vestry of St. John's Church, at Olympia, to become rector of the parish, which he has accepted.

Rev. Daniel Bagley has donated the land and building known as the Brown Church, in Seattle, to the First Methodist Church, putting it in the hands of trustees for such use. The whole is worth about $3,000. A liberal gift.

The Vote on Amnesty.

The first vote was upon what is known as the Sumner amendment, or the "Supplementary Civil Rights Bill." This was attached to the Amnesty bill, as an amendment, and the following is the vote upon the question of its adoption as found in the Congressional Globe of the 19th inst.

Yeas.—Messrs. Ames, Anthony, Brownlow, Cameron, Chandler, Clayton, Conkling, Cragin, Fenton, Perry of Michigan, Frelinghuysen, Gilbert, Hamlin, Harlan, Morrill, of Vermont, Morton, Osborn, Patterson, Pomeroy Ramsey, Rice, Sherman, Spencer, Sumner, West, Wilson, Windom, and Wright—28.

Nays.—Messrs. Blair, Boreman, Carpenter, Cole, Corbett, Davis of West Virginia, Ferry, of Connecticut, Goldthwaite, Hamilton of Texas, Hill, Hitchcock, Johnston, Kelly, Logan, Morrill of Maine, Norwood, Pool, Robertson, Saulsbury, Sawyer, Schurz, Scott, Stevenson, Stockton, Thurman, Tipton, Trumbull, and Vickers—28.

Absent—17.

The vote being a tie, Vice President Colfax cast the deciding vote which adopted the amendment and made it a part of the Amnesty bill. Upon the final passage of the bill as amended, the following is the vote:

Yeas—Messrs. Ames, Anthony, Brownlow, Caldwell, Cameron, Clayton, Conkling, Cragin, Fenton, Ferry of Michigan, Flanagan, Frelinghuysen, Gilbert, Hamilton of Texas, Hamlin, Harlan, Kellogg, Morrill of Vermont, Morton, Osborn, Patterson, Pomeroy, Pool, Ramsey, Rice, Robertson, Sawyer, Sherman, Sumner, Spenser, West, Wilson, and Windom—33

Nays—Messrs. Blair, Boreman, Davis of West Virginia, Goldthwaite, Hill, Johnston, Kelly, Logan, Morrill of Maine, Norwood, Saulsbury, Scott, Stevenson, Stockton, Thurman, Tipton, Trumbull, Vickers, and Wright—19.

Absent or not voting—21.

This last vote shows conclusively where the Democrats stand upon the question of Equal Rights. Rather than vote for the "Supplementary Equal Rights Bill," which was nothing more nor less than a bill to enforce rights already guaranteed, the Democrats preferred to kill amnesty.

Two Democratic votes would have saved amnesty. The friends of the government and of equal rights, say to the Democrats "You vote to give to the humblest citizen of the Republic all the rights and privileges guaranteed to him under the Constitution; rights which you enjoy unquestioned, and we will vote for Amnesty." The question is put, and what is the result? Every Democrat not only votes against the civil rights amendment, but against Amnesty also. Rather than accord to the colored men equal rights, they preferred to kill Amnesty. The civil rights measure is one of charity, of generosity and forgiveness, yet the Democratic party, of whom those lately in rebellion form a large majority in this section, say by these votes, "we will not have pardon, even when generously offered to us without repentence, if we must also concede equal civil rights to the colored man." Who is responsible for its failure? Let Democrats henceforth and forever hold their peace on the question of Amnesty.—Columbia (S. C.) Union.

A Wonderful Man.

The following rather staggering story is published seriously in an exchange as a rebuke to people who make the deprivation of a leg or an eye an excuse for throwing themselves upon the charity of others:

William W. Hawthorn died at his residence in Millsboro, Washington county, Penn., on the 18th of February., aged about seventy-five years. At the age of thirteen he was afflicted with rheumatism, which deprived him of the use of both his legs and also his right arm. His feet were drawn up against his thighs, and his right arm and hand contorted into everything but a natural position. The flesh on these limbs gradually shrivelled away, while his head and body continued to grow into all the proportions of a well developed man. For the purpose of locomotion he was placed in a box in which, constantly lying on his back, he attended to all kinds of business for sixty years. He acquired a common English education, and taught school for a number of years, and at the time of his death he was serving his seventh term as Justice of the Peace, having acted in that capacity for nearly thirty-five years. He used the pen with his left hand, and wrote a very accurate and legible hand.

In 1863 he was awarded a contract for carrying the United States mails on the route between Pittsburg and Waynesburg, and also on another route he was awarded the contract the second term. He superintended the whole business himself, frequently driving in a one horse spring wagon to Pittsburg, Washington and Wanesburg, with only a small boy for company. At the age of twenty-three or twenty-five he eloped with a Miss Wilson, and was married without the consent of her friends; but she being of suitable age for matrimony no trouble ensued. His wife proved to be a valuable helpmate for a man in his peculiar situation, and as time sped away she bore him twelve or thirteen children. He possessed an iron will, and almost an iron constitution, and by dint of indomitable energy and economy he accumulated quite a respectable amount of property. Compelled, as he was, to remain continually in recumbent posture, he wrote with his paper on a small board placed across his breast, and by the necessary habit of keeping his head raised upward and forward the muscles of his neck acquired sufficient strength to enable him to hold his head in that situation for hours without apparent fatigue.

Chinese Astronomy—A Remarkable Book.

A most remarkable book, which cannot fail to have much interest for others besides professed astronomers, has lately been published. It is entitled "Observations on Comets from B. C. 611 to A. D. 1640," and is by John Williams, Assistant Secretary of the Royal Astronomical Society. The portion of the book most interesting to general readers will be the introductory remarks on subjects which have occurred relating to the Chinese astronomy. If we may trust the antiquity of the books from which the information is gained—and Williams sees no reason to consider them less trustworthy than the early history of any countries—the Chinese possessed considerable astronomical knowledge in very ancient times. It must, however, be borne in mind that the correctness of the account given entirely depends upon the degree of credence to be placed in the "Shoo King"—one of their five classical works—which is considered by the Chinese as their most ancient book, and we know it was revised by Confucius about the sixth century B. C. Its antiquity is not only believed by the Chinese themselves, but by some of the best European scholars, and is borne out by its archaic style and construction. Williams mentions several tests by which the accuracy of these accounts may be verified. One of the most interesting is the following: "In the Chinese annals it is recorded that in the reign of Chuen Huh, the grandson of Hwang Te, in the spring of the year, on the first day of the first moon, a conjunction of the five planets occurred in the heavens in Ying Shih (Ying Shih, or, as it is more usually compounded, Shih, is one of the 28 stellar divisions determined by α ß and other stars in Pegasus, extending north and south from Cygnus to Pisces Australis, east and west 17 degrees, and comprising parts of our signs Capricornus and Aquarius. The Emperor Chuen Hüh is said to have reigned 78 years, from B. C. 2513 to 2435, and to have died in his 95th year, and from modern computations [illegible] here by Baily, the French astronomer, it has been ascertained that a conjunction of the five planets actually did take place about the time and within the limits indicated: that is, on the 29th of September, 2449 B. C., being the 65th year of Chuen Hüh. Should this on further investigation prove correct, it will afford a strong presumption of the authenticity of the early Chinese annals, as there is no appearance of their astronomers having been at any time able to compute the places of the planets so far back, and the account is found in works published long before any intercourse with Europeans had taken place."

Still Another Remarkable Cure

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10, 1871

DR. A. M. LOREYA & CO.—For two years I was afflicted with Rheumatism, and tried all the known remedies but experienced nothing more than a temporary relief, the disease always returning. Some months since I concluded to take your Oak Weed Remedy and the result was a Speedy and Permanent Cure, the Rheumatism being entirely eradicated from the system. The "UNK" is also a Tonic of the very highest order. It increases the appetite, and invigorates the body. I cheerfully bear testimony to its good effect upon me, and feel sure that it will do all you claim for it.

Very truly yours,
J. W. TRIPP,

SATURDAY MORNING, APRIL 20, 1872.

CITY.

BASE LINE ROAD.—The base line road beyond the intersection of Twelfth and J streets, in East Portland, is being planked, already one-third of the distance between the bridge at the above named intersection and the Lone Fir Cemetery having been planked. This is an important improvement which has long been needed by the inhabitants of both this city and East Portland. During the winter the condition of that piece of road has been almost impassable for teams. Funerals and processions have experienced great difficulty in reaching the cemetery owing to the depth of the mud and miserable condition of the road. It was no small undertaking with teams, and with footmen, societies, Masons, Odd Fellows, and military companies, the trip generally left the wearer a suit of [illegible] clothes, much vexation of spirit and physical exhaustion. We are glad to state that these inconveniences will not be suffered another winter. The much needed improvement, we learn, has been undertaken and is to be completed by subscriptions and the usual road work. In the matter of subscription, this city ought to contribute something towards this enterprise, as there is scarcely a week passes but that that road is traveled by funeral cortéges from this side of the river. Our smaller sister across the water has set a good example in the matter and has taken a step which will receive the approbation of the general public.

NO ONE SEEN.—Portland is now in the enjoyment of a season of serenity. All the thieves, hangers about low houses of prostitution, and vagrants, have taken precious good care to allow the police a wide berth, after the bewitching hour of ten o'clock. We are informed that since the [illegible] act has been enforced, the streets and avenues are deserted after the hour specified. One good result will follow the strict enforcement of the ordinance. Thieves and burglars are impotent to ply their avocation, as long as they dare not show their faces on the streets. Now that the ice has been broken, there should be no leniency whatever shown these villainous wretches. Every person of a questionable character, and is not favorably known to the officers, should be closely questioned, and if unable to make their statement appear plausible and satisfactory, taken into custody. Officers are expected to perform their duty in this regard.

WOULD BE CONVENIENT.—It would be quite convenient if those parties who have the contract and are paid for keeping the street lamps lit would see that they are set going a little sooner after the moon goes down than they are. It would be vastly convenient and much safer on dark nights for pedestrians if the drivers of wheeled vehicles, especially of some hotel coaches, were compelled to go just a bit slower. It would also much accommodate the public who desire to travel on the side walks of our city if grocers and others would store their goods on the inside of their buildings. These are not complaints at all. We never grumble, it don't pay; but if these suggestions should be heeded, things about town would be vastly more pleasant for the dear people.

FOR CALIFORNIA.—The following passengers were carried away on the steamer Ajax, which sailed for San Francisco last evening: David Colver and wife, Mrs L Mallett, Miss Ada Martin, Mrs Case, A. Markus, Frank Gilbert, Mrs Wm McCormick, Mr Merrill, Mr Case, David Irwin, [illegible] Irwin, J W Duncan and wife, H Grace, J T Cruikshank, N O Duncan and wife, Charles F Rowe, Lieut Sherman, Miss M Hall, H Parker, Dr H H Davis, Mrs A Caffery, Mrs Mary A Whipple and infant, Miss C Bower, Miss A Hamilton, Mrs A Daw, Tom Cassidy, E Parker, Miss C Bower, J H Woodrough, E Hilliker, L [illegible] and wife, J F Case, M E Merry, W F A [illegible] ger and 25 in steerage.

BOAT LOST.—We are informed that a small row boat, moored near Flanders' wharf, was missed the night on which the missing man, Alexander, was supposed to have been murdered and thrown from the wharf. The boat has not been found yet. There may be some truth in the [illegible], several times made, that the body was [illegible] out in the stream and sunk with a weight. The fact of the lost boat lends a plausible coloring to the supposition.

CARBOLIZED HOSE.—To-day at 3 P. M., under direction of the Common Council Committee on Fire and Water, and the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, Multnomah Engine Company No. 2 and Protection Company No. 4, will test the quality of carbolized hose at a drill to be had for that purpose at the corner of Stark and First streets. Should the results prove as claimed, it is intended to introduce the use of this hose into our city Fire Department.

ARRESTED.—United States Marshal Thomas G. Young arrested two men on Thursday at St. [illegible] on an order issued from Judge Deady. Their names were Cardiff and Pomeroy. They were charged with cutting timber on Government land. Marshal Young took them in custody, and [illegible] them over to L. S. Kearney, Marshal of Washington Territory, at Vancouver, yesterday.

INCREASE OF CAPITAL STOCK.—A meeting of the stockholders of the Good Templars' Hall Association was held on Thursday at the office of Jacob Stitzel. It was then determined to increase the capital stock of the corporation to $40,000. The association contemplate the erection of a brick hall, and that was one of the principal [illegible] of the increase of stock.

LODGED IN JAIL.—We learned yesterday that the man James Gordon who killed Henry C. [illegible], at Oregon City, had been arrested on a charge of murder and lodged in the Clackamas county jail. Our neighboring town at the falls has now three prisoners confined on the same charge. A rigid administration of justice will check that thing by and by.

SCHOOL MEETING.—Citizens will bear in mind that the adjourned meeting of the voters of School District No. 1, will convene at the Central school house on next Monday evening. It is very desirable to have a large attendance. There will be considerable business to transact, in which every legal voter of the District is vitally interested. Let the house be well filled.

PURCHASED A BLOCK.—A. J. Dufur, Esq., has, as we learn, recently purchased a block in Holladay's Addition from Geo. V. James, for which he gave the sum of $5,000. He contemplates the erection of a fine residence on the block during the coming season, and to take up a permanent [illegible].

FINE MUSIC.—In a review of the entertainment at the Unitarian Church on Wednesday, which we published yesterday, no mention was made of the solo "Waiting," by Mrs. J. A. Brownell. This was one of the most highly appreciated and finely executed pieces of music on the programme.

BRACED.—The Fourth street bridge in East Portland, has recently been thoroughly rebraced. One end had settled so that it was nearly impassable, and was considered unsafe for travel. To "make assurance doubly sure," the timbers were all gone over and strengthened with new braces.

REUNION.—The teachers and pupils of the Portland Academy and Female Seminary, together with the friends and patrons of the school, held a reunion at the Academy last evening. The attendance was quite large, and the occasion was highly enjoyed by those present.

STILL SEARCHING.—Alexander, the uncle of the missing man thought to have been dealt foully with, is still searching for the body. Several men were engaged yesterday in dragging the river.

DEFERRED.—The festival to be given under the auspices of the Good Templars, and announced to have come off last evening, has been postponed until next Tuesday evening.

ORIFLAMME.—This steamship, which will sail for Portland from San Francisco this morning, is announced to depart again from the former port on the 27th instant, at 6 o'clock P. M.

CALICO BALL.—The first calico ball of the season will be given at Philharmonic Hall, by the Emmet Guard, on next Tuesday evening.

PRACTICING.—Multnomah Engine Co. No. 2, was out drilling on the streets last evening.

SPECIAL CHURCH NOTICES.

SPECIAL SERVICES.—Rev. Daniel Jones will hold religious services to-morrow morning and evening, up stairs, over McCormick's book store, [illegible] on Alder street, between Front and First.

DROWNED OR SUFFOCATED.

On Friday, about noon, a man named George Carroll, a submarine diver, who had been employed by Mr. Lewis, to dive down and examine the wreck of the little steam tug Resolute, below the foot of Morrison street, met his death under singular circumstances. He made a successful descent and remained below near an hour and twenty minutes, and upon coming to the surface, reported the condition and precise locality of the machinery. A little past ten o'clock, he made another descent to the bottom and remained nearly an hour. During this time, he made repeated signals, and everything appeared to be prospering finely. At the expiration of an hour he ceased to give signals regularly, and at the end of an hour and a quarter, the signals which had been growing fainter all the time, finally ceased altogether. Fears were entertained that something serious had occurred to the diver. Reports to that effect were spread, and in a short time a large crowd had collected. The man who was attending to the ropes made several unsuccessful efforts to draw the diver to the surface. He then expressed the firm belief that the diver had become entangled in some way among the machinery, and called for assistance to pull him up. A number took hold of the ropes, but with their united efforts failed to raise the diver. They continued by changing from one point to another to loosen the ropes and armor, but without success. Nearly three quarters of an hour passed away, when an expert diver, named George Maxwell, declared his intention to go down and ascertain what the trouble was. He had partially divested himself of his clothes, when the rope and air pipe suddenly became slack, and the men at the rope commenced to draw them up. The dead heavy weight which hung at the end of the rope confirmed their fears that some accident had happened, and they pulled up with as much speed as possible. On getting the armor which enclosed the unfortunate diver to the surface, the signal or life-line was found wound around the left hand. The armor was at once removed, and, it appearing that there was life still in the body, it was carried into the cabin of a scow lying at the wharf, where everything that could be was done to bring about a reaction and restore the man, but without avail. Stimulants were administered and a galvanic battery used, but after a while the doctors announced that their efforts were without success, and that the vital spark had fled. The cause of death, from the appearance of the deceased, was doubtless congestion of the brain, caused by the stoppage of the supply of atmospheric air furnished him through the supply pipe.

The unfortunate man was a native of Norway, unmarried and aged about [illegible] years. Soon after the occurrence, the Coroner was notified. The jury was summoned and an inquest held over the remains at the Coroner's office. Several witnesses were examined and the statement of Dr. J. C. Ryan, the attending physician, was submitted to the jury. The following is the statement:

I hereby certify that after an examination of the body of George Carroll, I find the cause of death to be congestion of the brain.

J. C. RYAN, M. D.

The following is the verdict of the jury called by order of the Coroner to inquire into the cause of the death of George Carroll: We, the jury, find that the deceased came to his death from congestion of the brain caused by cold and over exertion. H. C. Dray, foreman, Lewis Ensign, William Wills, John Wills, Richard Burrage, W. A. Pelton.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Awful street crossings.

Barry's benefit on the 27th.

Milk on the decline—in price.

Roses fall, but thorns remain.

Democratic roosters indisposed.

A heavy hail-storm fell yesterday.

Occidental Hotel is being renovated.

Bark H. W. Almy has not yet arrived.

The hardest death to die—Bored to death.

Linen coats not desirable articles yesterday.

The band will not play to-day on the Plaza.

Two steam donkeys were brought up on the Ajax.

Masquerade dresses are not wanted just at present.

Large quantities of eggs are coming down from the Valley.

Portions of the Nicolson pavement in this city need repairing.

Expectoration circlets are just the same as "beau-catchers."

Last night was a good occasion for love-sick swains—moonlight.

On Thursday a boy had his leg broken by a dump cart upsetting.

Two arrests, two drunks, no runaways, and news scarce, yesterday.

Bark Amelia is now at the Gas Company's wharf, discharging coal.

Dust one day and mud the next. Banish the four-wheeled sprinkling pot.

Boast not of Webfoot weather, for you know not what even an hour may bring forth.

The Vancouver yesterday brought over considerable freight for reshipment on the Ajax.

The filth and stench on Second street, between Morrison and Alder, still remains in its native vigor.

The ladies are already making their calculations for the summer season at Oysterville and Clatsop.

Eastern dates to April 4th by Friday's noon train. Snow blockades account for loss of time in transportation.

Thomas B. Merry, late editor of the Yreka Union, is on his way to this city, where he contemplates a permanent residence.

The WEEKLY OREGONIAN, enlarged number this week, in wrappers, ready for mailing to friends in the East at business office counter.

Less "irresponsibles" now make their appearance on the streets after ten o'clock, since the late action in "matters vagrant."

Mr. Birney, who has charge of Captain Maxwell's corps of engineers of the Northern Pacific Railroad, was in this city on Thursday.

It is probable that a post mortem examination will be held over the remains of George McCarroll, the unfortunate diver who lost his life yesterday.

As soon as we have a stretch of dry weather the Street Commissioner Marshal will set men to work repairing the Nicolson pavements in the worst places.

The covering of the cistern at the intersection of Second and Stark streets is a source of much annoyance to those having occasion to drive in that direction.

AMUSEMENTS.

BENEFITS.—Tuesday evening next Mr. G. B. Waldron will take his farewell benefit at Oro Fino Theater. The programme for the occasion has not been announced yet.

On Friday evening next William Barry, who is one of the favorites of the city, will take a benefit. During the past season Mr. Barry has largely contributed to the pleasure of our theater-going community, and we have no doubt that he will be gratified by having a house filled to the utmost capacity. The fine old legitimate comedy of "Money" will be rendered.

THE BENEFIT.—A crowded house greeted Miss Minnie Pixley last evening on the occasion of her complimentary benefit at Oro Fino Theatre. The Octoroon was the bill offered. Of the performance generally we can say that it was well rendered, and appeared to be received with proper enthusiasm by the large intelligent audience. The benefit was a most substantial success, and complimentary to the young actress.

THEATRICAL.—Under the Gas Light will be offered at the matinee this afternoon at the usual hour. Waif of the Wave or Nobody's Child, and Betsy Baker will constitute the evening's programme.

A CHANGE FOR THE WORSE.—Joe Teal is horrified, indeed the English language fails in words to express his awful fear of that grinding and tyrannical monopolist, Ben. Holladay—the man who is depopulating the State and poisoning his prosperity, by building two lines of railroad up the Wallamet valley, and running a line of steamboats up the Wallamet river—we say he is so fearful that Holladay will grind our people into powder under his oppressive monopoly heel, that he comes up here into Linn county and asks our people to give him, Col. Joe Teal, Grover's big injun, a chance to become a grinding monopolist also. He naively, and with child-like simplicity, asks our people to promise him, on condition that he finishes the locks at Oregon City, a monopoly of the carrying trade on the Wallamet river! He reasons thus: I, Joe Teal, am a Democrat; a monopoly in the lands of a Democrat or Democrats, is all right; therefore give me the monopoly of the river, and I'll play Ben Holladay out; then I'll play big, I'll be a grinding monopolist; but as it will be a monopoly run in the interest of a Democrat, of course there can be no objection, as Democracy only objects to monopoly when in the hands of the Radicals.—Albany Register.

THE UMATILLA HOUSE at The Dalles is now completed and furnished in every respect unsurpassed. The office is the most cheerful and pleasant in the State, and the dining hall is unequaled. The rooms are all newly furnished. The house has twelve suites of rooms with stoves in them for families. The new house stands much higher than the old one. The ceilings are four feet higher, which adds greatly to the cheerfulness of the rooms. The table is kept in a style to correspond fully with the appointments.

IT IS UNIVERSALLY ACKNOWLEDGED THAT THE DOWNER Kerosene Oil is the highest grade in the market, and it is also a fact that after an examination of over 300 samples of Coal Oil by Prof. Price, in the interest of the Insurance Companies, Downer's Kerosene was found to be the best and safest of all. For sale by all dealers, and by the Oil House of F. B. Taylor & Co., 113 Front street between California and Pine, San Francisco, (established 1854), General Agents, Pacific coast.

THE FASHIONS—"Dolly Vardens" and other novelties just cut please the ladies, but the opposite sex must have their fashions as well. Seeing the necessity of keeping up a full line of New Goods to satisfy the demand Mr. Scharf, of the firm of J. O'Neil & Co., after a few weeks stay in San Francisco, selecting the latest things in the Clothing trade, has returned with a full assortment of goods of every description that will make a gentleman's outfit complete. After a careful inspection of all the departments in the house of J. O'Neil & Co., no person need go away without having given an order to this enterprising firm.

TO MEN AND BOYS.—Clothing of the best kind, both as to material and manufacture, can be had for men and boys at the establishment of Jos. Kohn & Co., No. 91 Front street. This firm is particularly careful to keep up their stock to the highest state of perfection, and to keep fully up to the fashion, and in their store you will find displayed the newest cut and freshest variety of goods, including the very latest and best importations from Europe and the finest domestic manufacture. They can fit you at once and completely. They now have both first and second floors crowded with goods.

Do you Buy your Milk of the SAUVIE'S ISLAND MILK COMPANY? They will give you ONE QUART A DAY FOR $2 00 PER MONTH. Orders left at WEEKS & MORGAN'S and at HACHENEY & STEMME'S promptly filled.

REMOVED

The office of THE DAILY AND WEEKLY OREGONIAN is removed to the S. E. corner of Stark and Front streets.

Diseased Digestion.

If chronic indigestion affected the stomach only it might be more easily borne, but it gives rise indirectly to many other diseases affecting the liver, the nerves, the bowels and the brain. Biliousness, nervous tremors, constipation, headache and [illegible] disturbance are among its usual accompaniments. In fact every organ, every fibre of the frame sympathizes with the [illegible] much. What is needed in such a case? Clearly an alterative and invigorant, and among medicines of that class Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is, beyond all comparison or estimate, the best. Mere purgatives only deprive the system of the little strength that disease has left it. Sedatives have the same effect. The whole internal organism has gone wrong, and can only be put right and kept so by a medicine in which the tonic and stimulating effects predominate, but are qualified and modified by anti-bilious aperients and blood purifying components. Now, the truth is that the medical faculty as well as the public know the fact, that Hostetter's Bitters contain every ingredient requisite for the cure of dyspepsia and all the ailments of body and mind which it involves. This has been proved in so many thousands of instances that it seems almost idle to repeat the statement.

The great tonic rallies exhausted nature, from whatever cause enfeebled, and permanently recruits the vigor of the nerves, the muscle and the brain. Its effect upon the brain is to give strength to the will and precision to the judgment, and to banish despondency and that infirmity of purpose which generally accompanies bodily weakness.

CITY.

East Line Road —The base line road beyond the intersection of Twelfth and J streets in East Portland is being planked a really one third of the distance between the bridge at the above named intersection and the line of Lone Fir cemetery has been planked. This is an important improvement, which has long been needed by the inhabitants of both this city and East Portland. During the winter the road in that piece of road has been almost impassable for teams. Funerals and processions have experienced great difficulty in reaching the cemetery owing to the depth of the mud and miserable condition of the road. It was no small undertaking with teams and with footmen, and the trip generally lone and solitary, compelling the wearer a suit of new clothes much vexation of spirit and physical exhaustion. We are pleased to state that these inconveniences will not be suffered another winter. The much needed improvement we learn has been undertaken and is to be completed by subscriptions and the usual road work. In the matter of subscription this city ought to contribute something towards this enterprise, as there is scarcely a week passes but what that road is traveled by funeral cortéges from this side of the river. Our small sister across the water has set a good example in the matter and has taken a step which will receive the approbation of the general public.

No Owls Seen —Portland is now in the enjoyment of a season of serenity. All the thieves and loungers about low houses of prostitution, and saloons, have taken precious good care to allow the police a wide berth, after the bewitching hour of ten o'clock. We are informed that since the act has been enforced, the streets and lanes are deserted after the hour specified. One good result will follow the strict enforcement of this ordinance. Thieves and burglars are impotent to ply their avocation, as long as they dare not show their faces on the streets. Now that the ice has been broken there should be no leniency shown these villainous wretches. Every one who is of a questionable character and is not generally known to the officers should be closely questioned, and if unable to make their account appear plausible and satisfactory taken into custody. Officers are expected to perform their duty in this regard.

Would be Convenient —It would be quite well if those parties who have the contract and are paid for keeping the street lamps lit would see that they are set going a little sooner after the moon goes down than they are. It would be vastly convenient and much safer on the streets for pedestrians if the drivers of wheeled vehicles, especially of some hotel coaches, were compelled to go just a bit slower. It would also much accommodate the public who desire to travel on the side walks of our city if [illegible] and others would store their goods on the inside of their buildings. These are not complaints at all. We never grumble, it don't pay; but if these suggestions should be heeded, things about town would be vastly more pleasant for the [illegible].

For California.—The following passengers were carried away on the steamer Ajax which sailed for San Francisco last evening: David Culver and wife, Mrs L Mallett, Miss Ada Martin, Mrs Case, A Markus, Frank Gilbert, Mrs Wm McCormick, Mr Morrill, Mr Case, David Irwin, G Irwin, J W Duncan and wife, H Grace, J F Cruikshank, A O Duncan and wife, Charles F Brown, Lieut Sherman, Miss M Hall, H Parker, Dr H H Davis, Mrs A Caffery, Mrs Mary A Whipple and infant, Miss C Bower, Miss A Hamilton, Mrs A Daw, Tom Cassidy, H Parker, Miss C Bower, J H Woodrough, E Hillyker, L B [illegible] and wife, J F Case, M E Merry, W, F & Co's [illegible] ager and 25 in steerage.

Boat Lost.—We are informed that a small row boat, moored near Flanders' wharf, was missed the night on which the missing man Alexander, was supposed to have been murdered and thrown from the wharf. The boat has not been found yet. There may be some truth in the report, several times made, that the body was rowed out in the stream and sunk with a weight. The fact of the lost boat lends a plausible coloring to the supposition.

Carbolized Hose —To day at 3 P M, under the direction of the Common Council Committee on Fire and Water, and the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, Multnomah Engine Company No 2 and Protection Company No 4 will test the quality of carbolized hose at a drill to be had for that purpose at the corner of Stark and First streets. Should the results prove as claimed it is intended to introduce the use of this hose into our city Fire Department.

Arrested —United States Marshal Thomas G Young arrested two men on Thursday at St [illegible] on an order issued from Judge Deady. Their names were Cardiff and Pomeroy. They were charged with cutting timber on Government land. Marshal Young took them in custody, and turned them over to L S Kearney, Marshal of Washington Territory, at Vancouver, yesterday.

Increase of Capital Stock —A meeting of the stockholders of the Good Templars Hall Association was held on Thursday at the office of Jacob Stitzel. It was then determined to increase the capital stock of the corporation to $40 000. The association contemplate the erection of a brick hall, and that was one of the principal reasons of the increase of stock.

Lodged in Jail —We learned yesterday that the man James Gordon who killed Henry C Bt[illegible] at Oregon City had been arrested on a charge of murder and lodged in the Clackamas county jail. Our neighboring town at the falls has now three prisoners confined on the same charge. A rigid administration of justice will check that thing by and by.

School Meeting —Citizens will bear in mind that the adjourned meeting of the voters of School District No. 1, will convene at the Central school house on next Monday evening. It is very desirable to have a large attendance. There will be [illegible] business to transact in which every legal voter of the District is vitally interested. Let the house be well filled.

Purchased a Block.—A J Dufur Esq has as we learn, recently purchased a block in Holladay's Addition from Geo W James, for which he gave the sum of $5 000. He contemplates the erection of a fine residence on the block during the coming season, and to take up a permanent [illegible].

Fine Music —In a review of the entertainment at the Unitarian Church on Wednesday which we published yesterday, no mention was made of the solo "Waiting" by Mrs J A Lrownell. This was one of the most highly appreciated and finely executed pieces of music on the programme.

Braced —The Fourth street bridge in East Portland, has recently been thoroughly rebraced. One end had settled so that it was nearly impassable, and was considered unsafe for travel. To "make assurance doubly sure" the timbers were all gone over and strengthened with new braces.

Reunion.—The teachers and pupils of the Portland Academy and Female Seminary together with the friends and patrons of the school held a reunion at the Academy last evening. The attendance was quite large and the occasion was highly enjoyed by those present.

Still Searching —Alexander the uncle of the missing man thought to have been dealt foully with is still searching for the body. Several men were engaged yesterday in dragging the river.

Deferred —The festival to be given under the auspices of the Good Templars and on [illegible] said to have come off last evening has been postponed until next Tuesday evening.

Oriflamme —This steamship which will sail for Portland from San Francisco this morning is announced to depart again from the former port on the 27th instant at [illegible] o'clock P M.

Calico Ball —The first calico ball of the season will be given at Philharmonic Hall by the Emmet Guard on next Tuesday evening.

Practicing —Multnomah Engine Co No [illegible] was out drilling on the streets last evening.

SPECIAL CHURCH NOTICES

Special Services —Rev Daniel Jones will hold religious services to morrow morning and evening, up stairs, over McCormick's book store, entrance on Alder street, between Front and First

DROWNED OR SUFFOCATED

On Friday about noon a man named George Carroll, a submarine diver, who had been employed by Mr Lewis to dive down and examine the wreck of the little steam tug [illegible] below the foot of Morrison street met his death under singular circumstances. He made a successful descent and remained below near an hour and twenty minutes and upon coming to the surface reported the condition and position of the machinery. A little past ten o'clock he made a further descent to the bottom and remained nearly an hour. During this time he made repeated signals and everything appeared to be proper. Finally at the expiration of an hour he ceased to give signals regularly and at the end of an hour and a quarter the signals which had been growing fainter all the time finally ceased altogether. Fears were entertained that something serious had occurred to the diver. Reports to that effect were spread and in a short time a large crowd had collected. The man who was attending to the ropes made several unsuccessful efforts to draw the diver to the surface. He then expressed the firm belief that the diver had become entangled in some way among the machinery and called for assistance to pull him up. A number took hold of the ropes but with their united efforts failed to raise the diver. They continued by changing from one point to another to loosen the ropes and tubes, but without success. Nearly three quarters of an hour passed away when an expert diver, named George Maxwell declared his intention to go down and ascertain what the trouble was. He had partially divested himself of his clothes when the rope and air pipe suddenly became slack and the men at the rope commenced to draw them up. The dead heavy weight which hung at the end of the rope confirmed their fear that some accident had happened and they pulled up with as much speed as possible. On getting the armor which enclosed the unfortunate diver to the surface the signal or life line was found wound around the left hand. The armor was at once removed and it appearing that there was life still in the body it was carried into the cabin of a scow lying at the wharf where everything that could be was done to bring about a reaction and restore the man, but without avail. Stimulants were administered and a galvanic battery used but after a while the doctors announced that their efforts were without success, and that the vital spark had fled. The cause of death from the appearance of the deceased was doubtless congestion of the brain, caused by the stoppage of the supply of atmospheric air furnished him through the supply pipe.

The unfortunate man was a native of Norway unmarried and aged about [illegible] years. Soon after the occurrence the Coroner was notified. The jury was summoned and an inquest held over the remains at the Coroner's office. Several witnesses were examined and the statement of Dr J C Ryan the attending physician, was submitted to the jury. The following is the statement:

I hereby certify that after an examination of the body of George Carroll I find the cause of death to be congestion of the brain.

J C RYAN M D

The following is the verdict of the jury called by order of the Coroner to inquire into the cause of the death of George Carroll. We, the jury find that the deceased came to his death from congestion of the brain caused by cold and over exertion. H C Dray foreman, Lewis Dunsign, William Wills, John Wills, Richard Burrage, W A Pelton.

AMUSEMENTS

Benefits —Tuesday evening next Mr G F Waldron will take his farewell benefit at Oro Fino Theater. The programme for the occasion has not been announced yet.

On Friday evening next William Barry who is one of the favorites of the city will take a benefit. During the past season Mr Barry has largely contributed to the pleasure of our theater going community and we have no doubt that he will be gratified by having a house filled to the utmost capacity. The fine old legitimate comedy of Money will be rendered.

The Benefit —A crowded house greeted Miss Minnie Pixley last evening on the occasion of her complimentary benefit at Oro Fino Theatre. The Octoroon was the bill offered. Of the performance generally we can say that it was well rendered and appeared to be received with proper enthusiasm by the large and elegant audience. The benefit was a most substantial success and complimentary to the young actress.

Theatrical —Under the Gas Light will be offered at the matinee this afternoon at the usual hour. Waif of the Wave, Nobody's Child and Betsy Baker will constitute the evening's programme.

A Chance for the Worst —Joe Teal is horrified indeed the English language fails in words to express his awful fear of that grinding and tyrannical monopolist Ben Holladay—the man who is depopulating the State and poisoning its prosperity by building two lines of railroad up the Willamette valley and running a line of steamboats up the Wallamet river—we say he is so fearful that Holladay will grind our people into powder under his oppressive monopoly heel, that he comes up here into Linn county and asks our people to give him Col Joe Teal Grover's big injun a chance to become a grinding monopolist also. He naively and with child like simplicity asks our people to promise him on condition that he finishes the locks at Oregon City a monopoly of the carrying trade on the Wallamet river! He reasons thus: I Joe Teal am a Democrat, a monopoly in the lands of a Democrat or Democrats is all right, therefore give me the monopoly of the river and I'll play Ben Holladay out, then I'll play big. I'll be a grinding monopolist but as it will be a monopoly run in the interest of a Democrat, of course there can be no objection as Democracy only objects to monopoly when in the hands of the Radicals!—Albany Register

The Umatilla House at The Dalles is now completed and furnished in every respect unsurpassed. The office is the most cheerful and pleasant in the State and the dining hall is unequaled. The rooms are all newly furnished. The house has twelve suites of rooms with stoves in them for families. The new house stands much higher than the old one. The changes are a perfect [illegible] higher which adds greatly to the cheerfulness of the rooms. The table is kept in a style to correspond fully with the appointments.

It is universally acknowledged that the Downer Kerosene Oil is the highest grade in the market and it is also a fact that after an examination of over 200 samples of Coal Oil by Prof Price [illegible] in the interest of the Insurance Companies Downer's Kerosene was found to be the best and safest of all. THE EASTER EGG

It stood on the mantle piece of the [illegible] parlor in a little ornamental [illegible] figure work. I noticed it as soon as I entered the room and wondered what it was. A [illegible] scrutiny showed me that it was intended for an Easter Egg. There were the variegated hues unmistakably plain and underneath on a gold plate on the stand, were inscribed the words "To Joseph Clarke from A. C. and S. C. in remembrance of Easter 1856." That settled the question as to its being an Easter egg at once but at the same time, it aroused my curiosity to know what event this novel souvenir was intended to commemorate.

I had just taken up my quarters at the "Crown and Dolphin" with the intention of spending a few days of my Easter vacation in that venerable hostlery which was one of those old fashioned country inns, big rambling many gabled houses well known to travelers in the old stage coaching days. A good many of them exist still up and down England, but their glory has departed and there is an air of solitude and desolation about them like that which reigned in the halls of Balclutha, over which Ossian sang his melancholy dirge. Mine host was Joseph Clarke a portly red faced, plethoric personage whose natural irascibility was not softened by constant attacks of gout. However he was civil to me, his only guest and was rather a pleasant companion of an evening when he and I smoked our long clays together beside the parlor fire. Every morning at breakfast that egg used to attract my attention and every day I resolved that I would satisfy my curiosity by asking old Clarke the history of it but, somehow, I felt diffident in his presence. It might be some family matter into which a stranger had no right to pry so I held my peace.

One morning—Easter Monday, in fact—I was sitting as usual in the best parlor in solitary grandeur, when a knock came at the door, and then mine host and his wife entered. There was an appearance of confusion in their looks, which puzzled me. The mystery was soon solved by mine host, who blurted out "Mr Morley sir my old 'oman and me, sir, has made bold to come and ask a favor of ye. Fact, sir, it's our weddin' day, and we allers has a family party. There's only sons and darters, and sons and darters in-law, and gran children—a matter of a dozen, not more. And would ye mind takin' a bit of a dinner with us sir?"

Before I had time to reply Mrs Clarke broke in "Which, I know sir it's not for the likes o' ye to dine with us in a general way, but to day bein' our weddin' day, and you bein' alone, sir, we made bold, sir to think you would not be above eatin' a bit of dinner with us."

I very readily accepted the invitation, much to the delight of the worthy couple, and to cut matters short, a very good dinner we had. I insisted upon the whole party adjourning to the best parlor after dinner when mine host produced some choiced port from the cellar. It being Easter Monday, and I having been, so to speak, admitted into the bosom of the family, I ventured to broach the question of the egg. If not of a private nature, what did it relate to? A general laugh, and a husky chuckle from old Joseph himself, suggested that there was something amusing connected with the egg and it didn't require much pressing to induce Mr Clarke to tell the tale, which he did, as follows.

"Let's see, it must be goin' on for fifteen years since that happened. Howsamever, I'll begin at the beginnin'. Ye've, maybe, noticed that big house opposite. Well, there a Dr Carter lives. He's a widower—wife's been dead this ten years. I suppose he has a couple of darters, but they are married and settled elsewhere. It's one o' them as I'm goin' to tell ye of. Deary me I remember when them darters of hissen was young girls—what romps they used to be! D'ye see that round hole in the big door there, close to the latch? Well, that's where they used to stand on tip toe and peep through when they heard a gentleman a drivin' or ridin' up here and we used to have a power o' young college gents then—far more than now. But I'm a gettin' off the line. Well, a matter o' fifteen years ago there was a young chap stayin' here a learnin' medicine with Dr Carter—a Frenchman he was. Alfred Chabot they called him. A merry, nice lookin' little feller he was, far decenter to look at and talk to than I ever thought a furriner could have been. He was fond o' comin' here of an evenin', and would bring his fiddle and sing to it as sweet as a bird. And he was so amusin' with it, that I tell ye, I've many a thought I'd ha' died with a laughin' at him. I think he must ha' had some larks with the young ladies opposite, too, when the old man was away for I've heard 'em laughin' in the garden like good 'uns, many a time. And my wife, she says to me one day

"I'll tell'ee what, Joe—that young French chap'll be spliced to one o' them Miss Carters afore long, or my name ain't Betty Clarke."

"Dy'e think so, Betty?" says I. For to tell the truth I never cast a thought on the matter afore—women is such sharper hands than men, ye see, at findin' out them sort o' things.

"Think it!" says she, "I'm just certain of it, and what's his Miss Susie, the younger one he's arter. Haven't I watched 'em lookin' at one another in church, so sly, when they thought nobody's eye was on 'em? La bless yer, 'tis the women folks that have the eyes, you men are as blind as bats."

Well, arter what Betty said, I thought I'd look at my lady and gentleman in church the next Sunday I was there. But never a sign did I see bless ye, pass between 'em their eyes seemed glued to their prayer books—leastways her's were. What they were at in sermon time I can't tell ye, for I generally listens to our parson with my eyes shut. It must bother a man ye know when he's a preachin' to see folks all starin' at him with their eyes wide open so I always shut mine.

This young Chabot he lived in lodgings in the village in the very house where our Lott lives now. Old Billy Hawes and his wife lived there then and Billy says to me, when we was smokin' our pipes together one evenin' beside the club room fire

"Joe," says he "my old 'oman tells me Dr Carter won't let that young French chap have his daughter."

"Nonsense!" says I "you don't mean to say young Chabot has asked for one of 'em."

"Aye! that he has, Joe and old Carter stormed and swore dreadfully at him so my Sally says but how she come to hear on't unless the young gentleman told her hisself I don't know."

"Which of 'em did he ask for—did Sally say?"

"Well the young 'un I believe."

"Ah then" says I, "ye may depend upon it because he didn't choose t'other. Ye see the young 'un is young and can afford to wait but the old 'un she's a gettin' on in years, and it'll be hard to get rid of her soon."

"Well' there's a deal o' truth in that, Joe" says Billy. Just then my missus came in and he had to go a minute arter so we didn't have any more talk about old Carter and his darter that night.

Howsumever, young Chabot stayed on and seemed as friendly with the old man as ever, so I began to think Billy Hawes' missis had been gammonin' him with some cock-and-bull story as wasn't true.

Well time went on. Christmas came and went, and a mortal cold Christmas it was for old Billy Hawes he was laid up that bad with it that I never saw a sight of him for three months afterwards.

On Easter Monday old Carter went to Nor[illegible] on some business or other. The day after [illegible] he had gone out at six o'clock in the evening young Chabot come into the bar and says to me

"Mr Clarke I've got a friend here who [illegible] We want to catch up the [illegible] night with first train to [illegible] [illegible] and that's all [illegible]."

"What [illegible] want to start from this [illegible]"

"Oh [illegible] after [illegible] say a quarter [illegible]"

"Very well then sir" says I. "I'll drive you [illegible] but I hope you'll catch [illegible] right to [illegible] the old mare to the harness."

"[illegible] the minute" says he [illegible] words walked [illegible]

You see we had no [illegible] near than [illegible] in those days and that was a good [illegible] miles off. I had [illegible] than [illegible] to [illegible] the distance in twenty minutes.

Well by [illegible] past [illegible] the shandry was ready and just on the minute of the quarter my young gentleman comes up with a friend with a lady carryin' the portmanteau. The horse was ready and we three ready [illegible] and they hopped into the trap. Mr Chabot sat in front with me and his friend perched himself on the back seat and off we drove.

I hadn't much time to look at Mr Chabot's friend but he seemed about the same hight as the young Frenchman, with a little more beard and mustachios. Mr Chabot and me we talked away pretty fast but the gent behind didn't put in a word though, for the matter o' that it ain't comfortable to talk from the back seat to a party in front. Once more Mr Chabot turned around and said

"Have you any cigars there Philip? I dare say Mr Clarke would like one and I am sure I should."

"Oh yes" says Mr Philip and hands over a case full. I took one Mr Chabot one and as I heard Mr Philip strike a match directly afterwards, I concluded he took one too.

My old mare soon did the distance, and before we had been ten minutes on the road the red lights of the station came into sight.

We used to have a practice here then—it's gone out mostly now—o' takin' somethin' short at Easter time, out the shell of an Easter egg. Mr Chabot proposed that we should have somethin' short in this way so I pulled up at a public house opposite the station, for we had ten minutes to spare. Mr Chabot and I jumped down to go into the public house, but Mr Philip said he'd go on and get the tickets.

I says "You'd better have a nip out o' the Easter egg, sir and any way it'll warm ye."

He wanted a deal o' pressin' but at last he agreed, so we had an Easter egg shell between us. Mr Chabot drank first. Then Mr Philip tried his hand. But la! I saw that he wasn't used to neat spirits, he made such a splutterin', and coughed till I thought he'd ha' choked.

"Gone the wrong way sir" said I. He looked away still coughin' and rubbin' his stomach.

"Burnt—my—inside—nearly to cinder" I heard him blurt out to Mr Chabot. Then he rushed off to get the tickets.

"Friend ain't partial to a raw nip, sir" says I. Mr Chabot laughed and said

"No, that's a taste he hasn't acquired yet."

In a few minutes we heard the train comin'. Mr Chabot slipped a sovereign into my hand, and thanked me for drivin' him and his friend. I followed him to the platform, the two of 'em jumped into a first-class carriage, and the last I saw of them was as the train was movin' off. They both looked out of the window, laughin' and wavin' their hands at me. I waved my hand back to 'em, and then the train moved out into the darkness and I lost them.

The next mornin' there was such a hubbub and to-do over yonder as you never heard. Miss Susie wasn't to be found anywhere—hadn't slept in her bed all night and was gone nobody knew where. Ye see, they went to bed so early they hadn't missed her over night. Well d'ye know that I was so stupid I never guessed what had happened, till my Betsy comes to me and says.

"Your'e a nice sort of a feller, Joe! A fine mess ye've got yourself into! and the father of a family too!"

"Mess!" says I. "What d'ye mean?"

"What do I mean?" says she. "Why, you ought to be ashamed of yourself not to know better than to help a young girl like that to run away from her home! Ye're nigh as big a villain as the man she run away with."

Will ye believe me, even then I didn't see what she was drivin' at, till she went on, with a face the color of raw beef.

"Don't tell me you know nothin' about it—don't stand there and look so innocent. How would they ha' got away if it hadn't been for you drivin' them? Ah! get away wi' ye! it's enough to make an honest woman ashamed of her husband, so it is."

Now I saw it all plain enough. Mr Chabot and his friend—the drive to the station. It took my breath away as the truth bust upon me. The young gentleman that sat behind had been—Miss Susie Carter. Well of all the neat tricks ever played, there's none comes up to that, says I to myself. Then I turned to Betty and says "I'll take my solemn oath Betty I never guessed what was up till this minute. As true as I'm standin' here I had no more notion that young feller Mr Chabot was a lady than I'd have that your'e Queen of England."

It was a long time before the old oman would believe me but she come round at last, and when old Carter come to hear of it my word, didn't he swear, and wasn't he mad? Didn't he pitch into me neither. But I give him as good as I got and when he told me I helped his daughter to escape I gave him the lie flat. He swore he'd have the law on me. But young Chabot wrote a letter exonerating me from all blame, and sayin' I was as innocent as a babe unborn which was gospel truth, and the old man came to me afterwards, and said he was sorry for the hasty words he had spoken.

I had a letter from the young scamp, too thanking me in the name of himself and his wife. They were married as soon as they got to London for the kind services I had done them. He said Mr Philip wished me to know that though he was willing to forgive he never could forget the agony and torture I had put him to by pressing him into taking that dreadful hot brandy out of the lucky egg shell which he was afraid to refuse lest he should arouse suspicion.

After holdin' out against 'em desperate for six months or more old Carter came round and I gave in and made the best of it and it wasn't a bad thing for Chabot had money of his own. It was when they came down here man and wife to stay with the old man that they gave me the wonder egg you ask about. It's a pretty thing, though I don't know what it's made of—some kind of French plaster I take it. They said it was a fitting token to recall that memorable night and more especially Miss Susie Mrs Chabot that is—said, to keep alive the remembrance of that awful egg shell full of brandy.

Well I was riled a bit at first at the trick they had played on me and at the way they had made me their tool but I have never regretted I [illegible] them the service. I believe it was a kindness to them after all for they loved one another and they'd only ha' been miserable if they had been separated. And it's my belief sir, if there was a little more of that sort of love which made them two young folks run away rather than be parted between many husbands and wives that get married in a proper and respectable way this world [illegible]ud be a sight happier than it is.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW [illegible]
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of ann[illegible] has returned from visiting the principal [illegible] Europe and has resumed practice at his [illegible] Kearny street corner of Commercial, [illegible] where his [illegible] patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money [illegible] of new remedies and has returned with [illegible] facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering [illegible] cure from the effects of secret indulgence, [illegible] absorbed into the system! Look at their [illegible] and disfigured faces and their broken [illegible] tions, disqualifying them for the happy [illegible] or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid [illegible] sands suffer until death closes the scene. Let [illegible] guardians friends, attend to those who are [illegible] any of these horrible life-destroying [illegible] they are cared for and cured before it be too late. [illegible] them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, who [illegible] made private diseases his especial study [illegible] is certain to cure the most inveterate cases [illegible] cury or any injurious drugs. It is [illegible] who are afflicted or to those who are [illegible] welfare of their friends to be careful of the [illegible] tended doctors who infest all cities publishing [illegible] in curing all diseases in a few days, [illegible] public by using the names of eminent physicians [illegible] Europe and other places. Be therefore careful [illegible] strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of [illegible] charlatans.

Seminal Weakness

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of [illegible] solitary vice or depraved sexual [illegible] by the youth of both sexes to an almost [illegible] producing with unerring certainty, the [illegible] of morbid symptoms unless combatted by [illegible] cal measures viz. Sallow countenance, dark [illegible] the eyes pain in the head, ringing in the ears, [illegible] the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, [illegible] in the loins weakness of the limbs, confused [illegible] blunted intellect loss of confidence, [illegible] proaching strangers a dislike to form new [illegible] disposition to shun society loss of [illegible] flushes pimples and various eruptions about the [illegible] furred tongue fetid breath, coughs, [illegible] sweats in somania and frequent insanity. [illegible] not blained should apply immediately, either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and [illegible] scientific mode of treating this disease which [illegible] effecting a quick and radical one. Dr G will give [illegible] Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove [illegible] to him that he was cured of this [illegible] of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN.

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful [illegible] should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them and obtain immediate relief.
DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to [illegible] patient a written instrument binding himself to [illegible] a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.
